

AIWC's 7th Annual Wildlife Baby Shower

During our peak season, we can admit up to 30 new patients and have up to 300 animals in care in a single day! The majority of our patients are injured and orphaned wildlife babies, ranging from orphaned deer fawns, to skunk kits, to fledging robins, and much, much more! Each year we see over 135 different species of wildlife admitted to our hospital.

Our 7th annual Wildlife Baby Shower fundraiser helps us prepare for this influx of spring and summer patients. It can cost from $100.00 to well over $1,000.00 to rehabilitate an individual animal, depending on the species and the nature of their injuries.

This year, our goal is to raise $15,000 to support the care of wildlife in need. As the demand for our services grows, so does the cost of operations. As a non-profit organization, we operate on a small, conservative budget, and rely solely on successful grant applications and your donations to help Alberta's wildlife in need.

Examples of costs during our peak seasons:

Food for one fox kit for one day: $5.25

1 bottle of antibiotics for injured wildlife (lasts 7-14 days depending on quantity needed): $19.35

Specialized feeding nipples for mammals: $200.00

30,000 mealworms (one week's supply in our peak spring and summer seasons): $565.00

Fresh produce for patients in care (for 5 days of meals): $343.00

Milk replacer for baby mammals: $1,800.00
