

11th Annual Wildlife Baby Shower

Wildlife baby season is here and we need your help! Over the coming months, AIWC will care for over 1,000 animals, most of them injured and orphaned wildlife babies. Please help us ensure that these wildlife babies have a future.

Animals are often injured or orphaned because of human activities – window strikes, vehicle collisions, barbed wire, domestic cat and dog attacks, and even kidnapping (taking a healthy baby animal from the wild).

This year marks our 11th annual Wildlife Baby Shower event! Did you know that it can cost well over $1,000 to rehabilitate an individual animal? As a non-profit organization, AIWC relies solely on donations and grant applications to operate.

Raising awareness about the natural behaviours of our wild neighbours is also important. The more we understand, the more we can prevent the unfortunate consequences of our activities.

Every dollar you give helps. Thank you for your support!

- Your donation of $200 will help ensure we have the specialized milk formula to feed orphaned baby mammals.
- Your donation of $10 will help feed an owl for a week!
- Your donation of $25 will help buy mealworms for birds in care.
